

CHANGE REQUEST COVER SHEET

Change Request Number: 12-110

Date Received: 9/13/2012

Title: AMS Real Property Policy Updates

Name: Charles Baldwin

Phone: 571-205-8427

Policy OR Guidance: Policy

Section/Text Location Affected: 4.2.3.10 & 4.2.3.3.2.5

Summary of Change: Policy for tenant improvements has been updated for consistency with Attachment B to the Space Lease. Seismic Policy has been updated based on new regulations contained within RP-8.

Reason for Change: Updates to Policy for Tenant Improvements and Seismic Guidance based on comments from the field and new regulations.

Development, Review, and/or Concurrence: ALO-200, AGC-520, WLSA, ELSA, CLSA, ALO-300

Target Audience: Real Estate Contracting Officers

Section 4.2.3.10 : Alterations and Improvements

Old Content: Acquisition Management Policy:

Section 4.2.3.10 : Alterations and Improvements

All alterations and/or improvements must be based upon technical requirements, business practices, or programmatic needs. Initial alterations, improvements, related items, and services associated with real property will be considered awarded through competition when included within the scope/requirements of the original procurement.

Alterations and improvements to an existing facility may be considered within the scope of a lease, if they are necessary to the operation of the facility as contemplated by the original procurement. In a leased facility, to minimize potential liabilities and restoration costs as well as other claims, the lessor should be considered the first choice for the provision of alterations. In making the determination of whether a lessor's proposed costs to make alterations and improvements to a leased facility are reasonable, the RECO should use a 1.) formal appraisal, 2.) construction data, 3.) cost to build publications, and/or 4.) an independent government cost estimate. If FAA makes the alterations, the lessor should be requested to waive any claims for restoration of the premises.

Any construction to leased or owned facilities must comply with the requirements of the Davis-Bacon Act. The Davis Bacon Act (40 U.S.C. 276a-278a-7) provides that contracts of $2,000 or more to which the U.S. or the District of Columbia are a party for construction, alteration, or repair (including painting and decorating) of public buildings or public works within the U.S. must include provisions that no laborer or mechanic employed directly upon the site of the work will receive less than the prevailing wage rates as determined by Department of Labor.

If the lessor is unwilling or unable to provide the means to complete the improvements, and the property is leased for no or nominal consideration, then the FAA may exercise its authority under 49 USC Section 44502(a)(5) to make the required improvements.

New Content: Acquisition Management Policy:
Section 4.2.3.10 : Alterations and Improvements

All alterations and/or improvements, including Tenant Improvements (TIs), are required by FAA to make the leased premises acceptable for FAA occupancy, and post occupancy alterations and improvements must be based upon technical requirements, business practices, or programmatic needs. TIs are the finishes and fixtures that typically take space from the "shell" condition to a finished, usable condition.

Initial alterations, improvements, related items, and services associated with real property will be considered awarded through competition when included within the scope/requirements of the original procurement.

A discussion of issues applicable to TIs, including the TI allowance often offered in the commercial market to encourage long term leases, is set forth in Real Estate Guidance 2.3.3, Tenant Improvements for Space Acquisition.

Section 4.2.3.3.2.5 : Seismic Safety

Old Content: Acquisition Management Policy:

Section 4.2.3.3.2.5 : Seismic Safety In 1996, NIST RP-4 Standards for Seismic Safety for Existing Federally Owned or Leased Buildings, February 1994, instituted a requirement on all Federal agencies leasing space and buildings to follow Interagency Committee for Seismic Safety in Construction (ICSSC) standards similar to the requirement for existing owned buildings. RP-4 was superseded by RP-6 in 2002. (link to <http://fire.nist.gov/bfrlpubs/build01/PDF/b01056.pdf>), Standards for Seismic Safety for Existing Federally Owned or Leased Buildings, January 2002). RP-6 requires a "Seismic Safety Certification" to be performed following the requirements of FEMA 310 prior to signing any new lease, or renewing existing leases. In 2003, FEMA 310 was superseded by American Society of Civil Engineers (ASCE) Standard 31-03, Seismic Evaluation of Existing Buildings. RP-6 Section 1.3 lists exemptions that may relieve an Agency of the seismic safety certification requirement. These exemptions must be applied on a case-by-case basis. The following guidance (2.4.8 Appendix H: Seismic) gives guidance for the evaluation process of safety and exemption applicability. New Content: Acquisition Management Policy:

Section 4.2.3.3.2.5 : Seismic Safety

It is FAA policy to provide/acquire space that complies with current federal standards for seismic safety. This policy is applicable to all space, whether such space is newly leased space, leased space subject to renewal, the purchase or construction of new buildings, or space undergoing major, renovations, where cost exceeds 50% of replacement value, in existing buildings. This policy is in accordance with the requirements of Executive Order (E.O.) 12699, E.O. 12941 and P.L. 101-614. In existing buildings, FAA follows National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST) RP-8, Standards for Seismic Safety for Existing Federally Owned or Leased Buildings, December 2011. RP-8 requires a "Seismic Safety Certification" that complies with the requirements of the American Society of Civil Engineers (ASCE) Standard 31-03, Seismic Evaluation of Existing Buildings, to be performed by a qualified structural engineer, prior to signing a new lease, renewing an existing lease, or granting rights to locate a privately owned structure on federal property. For new construction, the minimum standard for seismic compliance is the current edition of the International Building Code (IBC). In addition, the construction must be certified by a licensed structural engineer as meeting the requirements of the IBC.

RP-8 Section 1.3 lists exemptions from the seismic compliance requirements, and an exception that may relieve an Agency of the seismic safety certification requirement. However, these exemptions must be applied on a case-by-case basis and are invoked in consultation with the agency Seismic Safety Risk Mitigation Program Office (currently AJW-242), or other such seismic safety expertise the agency may provide. Further details on Seismic Safety procedures are found in Real Property Guidance section (2.4.8 Appendix H: Seismic).

RP-4 This was superseded by policy is in RP-6 accordance in with 2002 the requirements of Executive Order (link E.O.) to 12699, http://fire E.nist O.gov/bfrlpubs/build01/PDF/b01056 12941 and P.pdf L. 101-614. In existing buildings, FAA follows National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST) RP-8, Standards for Seismic Safety for Existing Federally Owned or Leased Buildings, January December 2011 2002 (wbdg.org/ccb/NIST/nist_gcr11_917_12.pdf). RP-68 requires a "Seismic Safety Certification" to be that performed following complies with the requirements of FEMA the American Society of Civil Engineers (ASCE) Standard 31-03, Seismic Evaluation of Existing Buildings, to be performed by a qualified 310 structural engineer, prior to signing any a new lease, or renewing an existing leases lease, or granting rights to locate a privately~~ owned structure on federal property. In For new 2003 construction, FEMA the 310 was superseded by American minimum standard for seismic compliance Society is the current edition of Civil the Engineers International Building Code (ASCE IBC). Standard In 31-03 addition, Seismic the Evaluation construction must be certified by a licensed structural engineer as meeting the requirements of Existing Buildings the IBC.

RP-68 Section 1.3 lists exemptions from the seismic compliance requirements, and an exception that may relieve an Agency of the seismic safety certification requirement. These However, these exemptions must be applied on a case-by-case basis.
